Sept - Dec 2024

Built in 1862 by architect Julius Alfred Chatwin, the building was originally designed as a library for St Philips Church across the road. It later became the Birmingham Joint Stock bank. In 1889 (the year Birmingham received official city status) Lloyd's bank took ownership of the premises. More than a century later the Grade II listed building is now The Old Joint Stock Pub as well as the UK's highest seller of London Pride.

Although the pub has been refurbished and modernised, it showcases the bank's original features and fittings. The Old Joint Stock boasts four private spaces, a huge main bar area and a fringe theatre. Combined with its central location and classic British cuisine, it offers a stunning social hub in the heart of the city centre.
